

Marry Me

You were on the cover of Rolling Stone, I was on page 20 of the Tucson Weekly
You're a Rhodes scholar, I have a BS from a state university
I hope you like femmes, I own 40 skirts, I'm a big liberal, and you'll like my cookin'
You're really smart and handsome, I'm not bad lookin'

We're perfect for each other, can't you see?
Rachel Maddow, marry me

You've got a show on MSNBC, I can't help but swoon when you read the news
I've got 10 followers on Instagram and 21 subscribers on YouTube, no, 22!
Your books are New York Times best sellers, my mom says my books are the best ever seen
You've won Emmys and lots of awards, I won for best folk in Tucson in '93

Rachel Maddow, marry me

You've got a partner, I can share
I have a wife, she won't care (I think)

Rachel Maddow, marry me

(talking)

Don't you want to live in Canada? Our anthem's easier to sing. We have free health care. And milk in bags! We have 20% of the world's fresh water – I know you like to fish. I love to eat fish. Do you like older women? I just wrote you this song and ... is this thing on ?

Rachel Maddow, marry me

© 2020 Jamie Anderson